

PARENT - SCHOOL PARTNERSHIP

Knowledge Garden believes that parents are a child's first and most important teacher. We strive to develop a parent/school partnership to help you bring out the very best in your child. Knowledge Garden provides a series of options for working parents to become involved in their child's development and the center's operations through volunteering, observations, parent workshops, storytelling and cultural exchange sharing. TESTIMONIALS

“Before we found the Knowledge Garden we had nightmare experiences with nannies and other child care facilities. So we were more than a little nervous when we registered our toddler with the Knowledge Garden. But, as it turns out, we had nothing to worry about! The staff at the Knowledge Garden made us feel comfortable from day one, and within the first week our little one was excited to go to school.”

- Valerie Crawford, Parent

“The environment is extremely clean. Teachers are caring, loving, and nurturing. My daughter’s language skills have increased tenfold in the last five months. Additionally, the activities such as painting, drawing, and coloring have inspired us to create more art projects at home. These are just a few of her favorite activities which create a lot of excitement for her, and she looks forward to attending school.”

- Mandy Pumilia, Parent
